

TROOPS NEEDED TO AVERT RIOTS

Presence of Soldiers Will Enable Goldfield Operators to Reopen Mines.

MINE OWNERS UNDETERMINED AL DUTTON ARRIVES FROM THE SCENE AND GIVES VIEWS.

A. H. Dutton, a cartoonist, who is now rapidly accumulating a fortune in Goldfield, arrived in Salt Lake yesterday from the scene of activity. Mr. Dutton is accompanied by his wife and baby, and will pass a few days of the holidays in this city.

Mr. Dutton believes it would be a fatal mistake to move the troops from Goldfield at this time. "The announcement," said Mr. Dutton, "that the troops will remain a space longer according to President Roosevelt's telegram, conditional on the action of Governor Sparks in calling a special session of the legislature within five days, is important to Goldfield. It means that the mine owners will reopen their properties with non-union men at reduced wages. The withdrawal of the soldiers would mean, undoubtedly, the destruction of much property and cause bloodshed. So far as an actual disturbance is concerned, I may say that there is none, but one can see the danger in Goldfield when the volcano will erupt."

"The mine owners seem determined to stand pat. There is a group of them there who go about armed to the teeth and who cause their homes to be guarded. These men, at least, I believe, are determined to make this a fight to a finish."

"With the additional three weeks' presence of the troops, provided Governor Sparks calls the legislature together, the mine owners will be able to put a great many more imported men at work and hear that a number of those who live there and have their little homes, are returning to work. Some of the strikers are on the verge of starvation, so reduced are they in circumstances. The proposition of the mine owners for a $4 day for miners is a pretty bitter pill to the men, and there are many who believe that the wages should not have been reduced."

Fifty extra deputies armed with shotguns are at present policing the town.

Work of the Agitator.

"Goldfield is the victim of the agitator. The worst element from Colorado and other places is there, and these are the men who are creating all the trouble. They seem to have the rest of the miners hypnotized, and whatever of lawlessness is the outcome it is due to the agitator. These agitators. They are the ones who have been guilty of waylaying people and beating them."

"In view of the fact that provisions and fuel are extremely high in Goldfield, I do not myself see how it is possible to buy coal this year the first ton cost me $5 and I paid $3 each for five tons more. Eggs are 5 cents a dozen and other prices are in proportion."

"Two of the banks now closed at Goldfield will reopen on Jan. 2. They will pay dollar for dollar, but they are obliged to pay as best they can. Their proposition is to liquidate at the rate of 25 percent in three months, 20 percent in six months and the balance in a year. This will clear the situation somewhat."

"It seems to be up to Governor Sparks to act. That is the opinion expressed by most of the people down there. As I understand it, Governor Sparks does not want a state militia. He wants rangers. I have my doubts as to whether a competent state militia can be recruited from among the men in that state."

"Within sixty days I expect to see Goldfield fully rehabilitated."

A New Year's Gift, 1908

An appropriate way of remembering friends, relatives, or employees is to present bank accounts as New Year's gifts. No matter how small the initial deposit may be, this plan encourages thrift and economy, as the recipient will usually make additions to the account.

YOUNG GIRLS CARRY HERALDS

Augusta and Covia Allen, The Herald's two best carriers.

The two best carriers of the Salt Lake Herald are two little girls—Augusta Allen and Covia Allen. The girls are 11 and 9 years old, respectively. Each morning these little girls deliver eighty-three papers to as many homes on the hardest route in the city, with rarely a complaint.

For the past nine months the daily routine of these two girls has been unvaried. Each morning, winter and summer, without missing a day, these two girls have covered the route of the Herald in that section of the city. They live at their home at 1915 South Thirtieth East street, and have what is known as the Sugar House and penitentiary route, which, on account of the scattering residences, covers a large area.

Augusta Allen, the elder of the girls, covers the largest part of the route. Each morning she rides horseback six miles over her route. Every subscriber of The Herald in that section of the city can rely on it that the little girl will always leave his paper at the door. Her sister, Covia Allen, helps her take the papers from the car and delivers a few of them to the subscribers living near her home.

These two little girls arise every morning at 5:30. The elder one dons her riding bloomers, saddles her horse, and together the sisters go three blocks to meet the Sugar House car, which brings out The Herald. The car arrives at 6 o'clock, and by 7:30 the route is covered. Both the girls attend the Sugar House school. The elder one is in the fifth grade and the younger in the third grade.

When the girls first undertook to carry the route last spring they received $1 a week for their services. Their pay was later raised to $5. In addition they receive a bonus of 50 cents a week whenever everyone on the route gets the paper without missing an issue during the week. This makes their pay practically $5.50 each week, because there has scarcely been a complaint from any of the subscribers on the route since it was taken by the girls.

Both are healthy and strong, the morning work of the girls apparently making them exceptionally rugged. They enjoy carrying the papers and are as proud of the paper in whose employ they are as they would be were they its owners. Their work yesterday morning was heavy. Eighty-three papers of the big edition make a large load for two youngsters.

Not long ago the picture reproduced was taken for the girls to send to relatives. They held up the papers so that no one could think that they were working for any paper other than The Herald.

EXTEND HOPE FOR FUTURE

Speakers at Tabernacle Review Past Year and Exhort Hearers to Be Confident.

In the tabernacle yesterday afternoon the speakers took occasion to review the old year and to speak words of encouragement and predict good things for the year to come. The chief speakers were Apostles John Henry Smith, George F. Richards and George Albert Smith. The meeting was opened with prayer by Joseph E. Taylor. During the services the choir sang a number of selections, among them "The Christmas Song," composed by a Salt Lake musician.

Apostle George Albert Smith spoke along doctrinal lines, saying that the persecution of the Jews was largely to be placed at the door of the Christians, who in their ignorance and misconception, pursued this people relentlessly. Apostle Smith reviewed the work of the church during the last year and predicted its continued growth in the future.

Apostle George F. Richards said that the Mormon people believe in the Bible in so far as it is correctly interpreted. Apostle Richards doubted the translation of some of the books, but declared that the church's unflinching faith in the "Book of Mormon" and the "Doctrine and Covenants."

Apostle John Henry Smith said that some degree of adversity had come upon the people during the latter months of a year filled with prosperity. But in the midst of that adversity, he said, the people face the future with a calm confidence.

DEMING DYED HIS HAIR.

Sullivan and Garcia May Have Assumed Disguises in Flight.

As Richard Deming, the highwayman who escaped from the county jail a week ago, dyed his red hair to a raven blackness leaving Salt Lake, it is thought that Joe Sullivan and Joe Garcia, the fugitive murderers of Policeman Ford, may have resorted to some such method of disguising themselves.

It is thought probable that Sullivan has, like Deming, dyed his hair black and in that way eluded the watchfulness of those who are looking for him along the main lines out of Salt Lake. Garcia might easily pass as a negro.

Deputy Sheriff Corliss, who has been sent to Baker City, Ore., to bring Deming back to Salt Lake, is not expected back before tomorrow.

To Be Cured, Weakness of Stomach Muscles Must Be Overcome.

The chief cause of indigestion is weakness of the stomach muscles and lack of gastric juices.

By taking Mi-o-na stomach tablets the stomach muscles will be stimulated and strengthened and the flow of gastric juices will be increased. MUSIC AT MEN'S MEETING

Excellent Program a Feature of Sunday Gathering—Address by Rev. Mr. Goshen.

There was a large attendance at the services at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. In addition to an interesting New Year's address by Rev. Elmer I. Goshen, there was a fine musical program.

"The Christmas Bells" and "Twilight Home Song" were sung by a double quartet, composed of Miss Hilma Gleason and Miss Eleanor Prouit, first sopranos; Miss Elizabeth Robinson and Miss Ada Ferguson, second sopranos; Miss Pearl Allenbaugh and Miss Rowena Korps, first altos; and Miss Genevieve Stratton and Miss Leola Schrack, second altos.

Solos were sung by Miss Robinson, Miss Allenbaugh and Miss Gleason. Miss Schrack and Miss Prouit.

In his address Rev. Mr. Goshen spoke of the custom of long ago, when an hour glass was placed in the hands of a dead man. "It would be better," he said, "to place the hour glass in the hands of a living man, so that he may see that the sands of life are running and remember that he is making the journey toward eternity."

"We should not let our minds dwell too much upon the past. We should think of the present and the future, and seize the opportunity to lead better and more useful lives."

"When you look back upon the past year, you may see that your business has prospered; you have bought and sold, and engaged actively in the affairs of the world. But these things matter nothing if you cannot look back and feel that you have been kind, and gentle and good, and have helped your fellow man."

"As you look to the future, remember that dogmas and creeds do not amount to anything unless you strive to do good, to influence those who are about you to better things, to make sacrifices for those who are less fortunate than you."
